

NATURE'S MIRACLES

In a perfect world, we'd get herbs straight from nature: pure, potent and pristine. But, in the real world, hundreds of variables impact an herb's quality, potency and purpose. So, we employ modern science to create standardized herbs that aren't merely pure, but as true to nature as possible. Through research, we identify components responsible for each herb's benefits and then we search the globe for sustainably wildcrafted or harvested sources. We use gentle, water-based extraction – instead of harsh solvents – to standardize the active constituents and surround them in all-vegetable capsules, making our herbs 100% vegetarian/vegan from the inside out.† Plus, most of our standardized herbs also undergo kosher certification.‡

That's why Bluebonnet's fresh, innovative line of standardized herbal extracts is just another one of nature's miracles.
